

EF HUEBLER FINED.

CAMPBELL ASSESSES HIM $10 FOR CONTEMPT IN THE FLEMING CASE.

Fine, however, was stayed—The Chief, much relieved by the decision, offered to pay the money. Attorney Theodore B. Harvey will now prosecute Officer Williams for abduction and will have Sergt. Ormsby extradited.

Chief of Police Huebler put in an appearance in the Court of Criminal Correction this morning to answer the proceeding against him for contempt in making a false return to the writ of habeas corpus served upon him in the case of Clete Fleming.

The attachment ordered by Judge Campbell on last Saturday morning when the amended return made by the Chief virtually threw that officer on the mercy of the court, was not served until yesterday afternoon. It had been made out early in the week, but was not served in order that the Chief should not be disgraced by an actual arrest. The return read as follows:

In the matter of Clete Fleming habeas corpus: "Now comes Antonio Huebler, Chief of Police of the city of St. Louis, and prays that he may be discharged from the attachment herein issued on March 1, 1890, and states that he was not guilty of a contempt of the court in the first return made by him to the writ of habeas corpus; that he made said return under the advice of the Circuit Attorney of the city of St. Louis, who at the time he made the same was in custody of the State of Nebraska under a warrant issued by the Governor of Nebraska, and that he was not aware of the fact that the State of Nebraska was a fugitive from justice to said State of Nebraska. And respondent further states that when said first return was adjudged false by this court he made by permission of the court a second and amended return, and was discharged by the order of the court. Respondent states that he has made every reparation in his power; that he has obeyed the order of the court; that he never had any intention of disobeying the same, and that the cause of right and justice has been fully satisfied, and no reason exists why he should be punished in the above manner."

Chief of Police of the City of St. Louis.

LEWIS K. BELL, Attorney for Respondent.

When court opened this morning City Counselor Bell read the return, which had been previously filed. He then spoke for several minutes, throwing all blame in the matter upon Chief Attorney Huebler, who, he said, had advised Chief Huebler in every action he had taken. Mr. Bell also held that the court had condoned any offense which might have been committed in the filing of the first return, adjudged false by the court, by the acceptance of the amended return which had been filed on Saturday last.

Judge Campbell answered Mr. Bell. He said that merely because an attorney had advised the Chief was no reason why an order of the court should have been utterly disregarded. He said that if an attorney was to dictate to the court what disposition should be made of any action before it, there was no reason why the court should exist.

Why the court should exist.

For every body knew that the attorney was not so impartial as to enter a judgment against his own client, and should the evidence be against him. He said that he did not believe that the action of Chief Huebler was a willful and intentional contempt, but that it was a contempt he had become fully satisfied. While he had nothing but the utmost faith and confidence in Chief Huebler both as a citizen and as the head of the St. Louis Police Department he felt that it was his duty to establish a precedent by taking such action as to call the attention of the public to the fact that the disposition made of a case whenever to their advantage, but in every instance in which detection was made by the court sort of any subterfuge through which their point could be made, and that they should be given the same treatment as a precedent by which to take warning that he felt obliged to enter judgment in the case at interest. Judge Campbell then said:

"Feeling as I do and as I have in a measure now expressed my opinion during the proceedings, I do judge Chief Huebler in contempt of this court, and I return judgment in making a fine of $10 to be paid to the writ of habeas corpus served upon him in the case of Clete Fleming. I now order that a fine of $10 be entered against him, and I further order that such fine be paid."

Chief Huebler had been setting to one side of the court-room in one of the jury boxes during the proceedings. As soon as the much feared judgment had been pronounced upon him, he rose with a great sigh of relief and stepped forward to the rail surrounding the Chief's bench. The Chief pulled a well-worn red leather wallet from the inside of his coat, and handed it quickly across the rail. Mr. Fitzgerald looked at him in amazement for a moment, and then said:

"That fine against you has been stayed, Mr. Huebler. You don't owe the court any more."

"Oh, is that so? Well, I am much obliged," said Chief Huebler, and he turned to his vest pocket and, followed by a couple of officers, left the court-room.

To a reporter a few minutes later he said that he had no remark to make on Judge Campbell's action.

Mr. Thomas B. Harvey, the attorney who acted for Clete Fleming, an attendant upon the woman's arrest, was seen as he left the court-room. He expressed himself as being very much satisfied with the result of the proceeding. He said:

"This is all that I could have asked for. Not only has my client been discharged from the St. Louis court, but the case against her in Omaha has been dismissed, through the influence of the St. Louis authorities. The habeas corpus action has been vindicated, and the rights and liberties of the citizen more firmly established in the eyes of the St. Louis police department. I shall now endeavor to have Officer Williams punished for abduction, should I succeed in this I will ask Gov. Francis for extradition papers for Sergt. Ormsby, and will carry that officer back to answer to a like charge which you know has been proved against him. The result of these actions will determine me as to whether or not I shall commence proceedings in this city for an evasion of the habeas corpus proceeding to which my client is most certainly entitled."

The case against Officer Williams was docked for trial in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday.

Mr. Williams, however, appeared and has the action continued until next Wednesday, when he says he will be ready to go to trial. Mr. Harvey says he will have his side of the case ready at any time which may suit Williams. And the end is not yet.

THE CLAFIN COLLEGE ROW.

Chaplain Cardozo Tells the Story of the Assault Upon Him.

By Telegram to the Post-Dispatch.

CHARLESTON, S.C., March 8.—The 800 colored students of Clafin University, where two days ago the colored chaplain of the college was assaulted by a mob of whites, have notified the President, Rev. L. M. Danton, that they will not attend recitations in Prof. De Treville's classroom.

President Danton is in correspondence with the Governor and trustees, and the college is in a state of open rebellion.

The Rev. J. N. Cardozo, the assaulted chaplain, is a leading colored preacher well known in the North. He was very severely beaten by Prof. De Treville. Through a friend he has

M'GREW MEETS HIS MATCH

AN APPLICANT FOR A LOAN PROVES TOO MUCH FOR THE SERGEANT.

Emil Thomas Receives His Commission and is Charged with the Murder of a Woman.

Will Not Surrender—Sewer Contractors City Hall Notes.

Sergt. Alex McGrew, the carburetor of the Mayor's office contingent fund, has duties that are many and varied, and acting in his official capacity he has got to be an excellent judge of human nature. He prides himself on his ability to tell a deserving person from a fraud. An incident occurred in the ante-room of the Mayor's office this morning which caused a hearty laugh at the Sergeant's expense. He was sitting at his desk, when an old man, poorly dressed, with but one eye and an expression of woe on his countenance, walked in the office and up to McGrew's desk, where he removed his hat and made a profound salutation.

"Well," said Sergt. McGrew.

"I am in hard luck," said the stranger.

"And I want to see if the Mayor won't give me a loan. I need $5 to get back to my folks at Chester."

"Do you know the Mayor?"

"No, I do not, but I guess he'll accommodate me."

"Don't you think your nerve is above the average?" the Sergeant was forced to ask.

"I don't know, but I don't want to try about trying to borrow money from people you don't know? Why, I can't borrow money from people I know."

The old man was silent for nearly a minute, and then he moved toward the door.

"I guess that's the reason you can't borrow money from people you don't know."

The Sergeant had nothing further to say and the applicant for a loan disappeared.

He stood then for a few minutes apparently wrapped in thought. He then shouted back:

"I've got one on my head with a large, spotted, hickory stick. This stick is as large and as heavy as a policeman's club, and catching hold of the smaller and with both hands, he struck with all his force, scattering the stick in all directions."

We'll to the ground together. Then he arose, got hold of the stick and in rapid succession he first laid the stick on the ground, then completely, and finally while he was prostrate upon my bare skull and quickly hastened off the grounds."

Commercial Notes.
Sergeant Hammond: "I have been hanging on to and predicting warmer weather for a week, and it must not wait."

New Orleans cleared yesterday 25,000 bu. corn for Bremen, Mo. 500,000 bushels of corn for Bremen, Mo. The net imports of wheat in Holland for the year ending March 31, 1889, were 1,724,500 bu. and barley, 1,135,000 bu.

Advices from the present week, which had been of material service in checking the market, show that the crop is not so good as was at first supposed, and that the nature of the growing season may be viewed with no feeling of anxiety. A grassy cable from London, dated March 7, 1890, bitterly told throughout Austria-Hungary, the thermometer ranging 12 deg. to 15 deg. below zero.

The weather during the present week has been very unfavorable for the grain crop in the North. The heavy rain, which was largely accompanied by high winds, has done much to injure the grain, and it is at present all that could be desired, save the hope that the rain will not be too much for the grain, which is now in the hands of the farmer, and which he will be able to handle with no feeling of anxiety.

A Liverpool cable states that the Punjab wheat crop is a failure, and that the district has not yet done any damage. San Francisco exported 1,185,000 bushels of wheat last week, and this amount was largely accounted for by shipments from other Pacific Coast ports.

Frank Puff has returned from the trip to the South. He left Frank Ryan at Hot Springs in good health, except that his eyes are still looking blue. Logan, Cowi & Co., New York, wired last Saturday an estimate of Government reports, 140,000,000 bu. in exports in farmers' hands, against 112,000,000 bu. last year.

Export clearance from four Atlantic ports for the week were 540,000 bu. wheat, 2,000,000 bu. corn, 500,000 bu. oats, 240,000 bu. rye and 100,000 bu. barley. Private cables from London, dated March 7, 1890, show that the wheat market is not so good as was at first supposed, and that the nature of the growing season may be viewed with no feeling of anxiety.

Chicago Market Letter.
Special to C. E. Ward.
CHICAGO, March 8.—Wheat—We have to-day had a typical Saturday market, of which the main feature was dullness. Outside of New York, orders which were at times large, the principal trading was done by petty speculators. The market was being a narrow and uninteresting market, which was not very different from the one which was seen in the market of the week before last.
